

have but little relation to the taxation of the people, and when extravagance in the public service has become a contagious plague. To those who hope for a bright promise of reform, unorganized good intentions and idle patriotic aspirations are of no avail. For the success of the compact forces of private interests and greed, nor is the organization always the most useful of political organizations. The real benefit of political organization is found in its nearness to the people, and in the directness of its action. Of course, harmony and unity of purpose are absolutely essential. In this view, your assembling together is most important, in so far as it promotes the harmony and unity of the people, and a concentration of methods, and in so far as it inspires that zeal and enthusiasm which will make your work at home, therefore, I am sure that I can say nothing better in taking my leave of you, than to wish that your convention may be a most profitable and encouraging one, and that, at its conclusion, you may resume your places in your home organizations, newly inspired by the determined and zealous efforts in the cause of true Democracy.

Mr. Cleveland was frequently applauded and his closing injunction received mirthful and hearty approval. Gen. Patrick A. Collins, of Massachusetts, was elected temporary chairman. Committees were appointed and then followed a resolution which evoked considerable applause. It was that the chairman be requested to transmit to the President of the United States the sympathy of the members of the organization for his day of anxiety and to express their earnest hope that in the providence of God Mrs. Harrison may, in his own good time, be restored to health. A vote was offered by North Carolina delegate and was carried unanimously. A recess was then taken on motion of delegate English, of Indiana.

After recess the temporary officers were made permanent. A report was presented showing that the number of clubs had increased from 4,700 in 1891 to 5,000 in 1892. There are now one hundred women's Democratic influence clubs in existence. Among the resolutions offered and adopted were the following:

We warn the American people of the danger which menaces their common liberties in the manifest purpose of the managers of the monopoly party to subvert the federal government through the provisions of an unconstitutional and partisan force bill, designed by corrupt and unscrupulous politicians, and endorsed by Benjamin Harrison and a so-called Republican convention of office-holders and monopolists.

We denounce an un-American and unconstitutional the people for the benefit of the few by the taxation of the many, and the people's money in profligate expenditure, in subsidies and in jobs, and demand a return to more equal taxation, frugal government, and purer government, which can be accomplished only by the election of Cleveland and Wilson.

J. H. Outhwaite, of Ohio, in a brief speech, told the delegates to "keep your eyes on Ohio." Martin McGinnis, of Montana, in the course of a speech referring to Cleveland's administration, said that he did not, perhaps, turn out as many Republican office-holders as he might have done.

"He will do better next time," cried a voice.

"Yes, he's learned something by this time," replied the speaker.

There was then read a series of resolutions adopted by delegates of various Democratic clubs denouncing the force bill as one intended to serve the interests of selfish monopolies.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing four years: Chauncey F. Black, of Pennsylvania, president; Lawrence Gardner, of Pennsylvania, secretary; Roswell P. Flower, of New York, treasurer. William E. English was made vice-president for Indiana. Then came a resolution thanking David Bennett, of Indiana, for his recent speech at Brooklyn, a letter of regret from "General" Stevenson, and adjournment sine die.

Nearly five hundred people shook hands with Grover Cleveland to-night in the rooms of the Democratic Club of the city of New York, where he was tendered a reception. Prominent Democrats from all parts of the country were present, and the members of the national and State Democratic committees who are in town were among them. Mr. Cleveland is a member of the club. Invitations were sent to Governor Flower and ex-Senator Hill, but neither succeeded in putting in an appearance. Mr. Cleveland was escorted by a committee of the club, was the signal for an enthusiastic outburst. Mr. Cleveland was appealed to to say something, and in a conversational tone, replied as follows:

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen—I simply express my pleasure this evening for this cordial and generous welcome. I am called here to-night for some good reason. First, I feel this to be the Democratic home. Second, I feel I expect to meet here many of my townsmen, whom I am anxious to see. I expect to meet many of my townsmen, but my Democratic townsmen. More than all this, I have come here with a great deal of pleasant anticipation in meeting and taking by the hand those others who have assembled here to-day from various parts of the country, all actuated by the same principles and purposes that actuate the members of this club. I have come here to see them, and I hope we will show them that we are ready to live in New York city. Now gentlemen we are ready for the task.

All then adjourned upstairs, where a collation was served.

Cleveland Will Take the Helm. NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Grover Cleveland will leave this city for Gray Gables at 5:30 to-morrow afternoon via the Fall River line. He will return to this city next week in company with his family. They will go direct to their new home on West Fifty-first street, which will then be in readiness to receive them. The ex-President was very busy to-day at his hotel. In regard to the campaign he said: "I am very much pleased with the enthusiasm and interest which is shown on all sides by the Democracy of New York. There is certainly a favorable outlook for the success of the Democratic party."

On his return to the metropolis Mr. Cleveland will personally direct his canvass and hold daily conferences with Chairman Harrity, Dickinson and others. He has accepted the invitation of the committee of one hundred to review the Columbus celebration parade, and may stand side by side with President Harrison, who has also accepted the committee's invitation to be present. It is expected that he will divide together at the banquet at the Lenox Lyceum on Oct. 13.

VERY ONE-SIDED. Democratic Candidate for Governor in Florida Elected by 25,000 Majority. JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 4.—The vote of the State is hardly as heavy as was expected. This is accounted for by the fact that the poll-tax requirements kept down the aggregate of qualifications in all parties. Mitchell, Democrat, has carried the State by at least 20,000 majority, although his vote will hardly reach 30,000, which is 10,000 less than the vote polled for Fleming, Democrat, in 1888. Baskin, People's party, cannot by any possibility show as much more than 6,000 votes, which is 20,000 less than the Republican vote four years ago. While Republicans, where they voted at all, generally supported the People's party ticket, the negroes strangely divided their votes between Mitchell and Baskin.

At 11 p. m. reports had been received from every county in the State. These indicate that Mitchell's majority will be far from 25,000. His vote will probably run to 31,000, and Baskin's will not exceed 6,000.

The Fight in Georgia. ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 4.—State Chairman Irwin, of the People's party, has issued an address to the voters of the State to influence the election, which takes place Wednesday. He says there is a bulwark in the cities, and the scenes of September are like those which took place in revolutionary France. General Weaver was maltreated, he says, because he was a Union soldier. The address attacks Governor Northen and denounces Grover Cleveland as an insane follower of Wall Street. It concludes: "This is a poor man's fight. Money has been tried to keep the poor man down, and now is the time to redeem the land from a shotgun Democracy. Come, trust in God and your own righteous cause to hurl from power those men, who, with rotten eggs, have forever stained the honor and chivalry of their native State."

Farwell May Preside. CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—There is great interest among Republicans in the big meeting to be held in the Auditorium, Oct. 24. It is said that Charles B. Farwell is to be invited to preside. This is regarded as an important factor for the success of the campaign.

ministration. The meeting is intended to be representative of the sentiments of Republican business men in Chicago and to be a counterpart of the "big four" gathering in New York, when Platt, Depew, Reid and Warner Miller were the orators.

The Opposition to Cannon. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

DAYVILLE, Ill., Oct. 4.—The widely advertised so-called anti-Cannon Republican convention in this city to-day was a failure so far as members were concerned. There were not over thirty persons present from other counties in the district. No action of importance was taken other than a resolution to circulate anti-Cannon literature in the district. Every Republican paper in the district is supporting Mr. Cannon, and the action of the few malcontents will cut a very small figure in the campaign.

Ex-Mayor Grace Backs Down. NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—An evening paper publishes an interview with ex-Mayor W. R. Grace, in which that gentleman says: "While I believe that the nomination of a third ticket in the city of New York would bring out a large Democratic vote, and considering the fact that I am a Republican, I am not in favor of it. I have no objection to my name being put in nomination, but I do not intend to put my name in nomination."

If Harrison Is Elected. HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 4.—The hundred or more employees of the Jewell Belting Company have a promise of an increase of wages provided Harrison is elected President. At 11:30 yesterday work in the factory was stopped and the employees were requested to assemble in the store-room. There they were addressed by one of the proprietors, who told them if Harrison was elected the company would undoubtedly see its way through to give them an increase in wages.

Governor Buchanan Feted with State Eggs. NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 4.—A disgraceful occurrence took place at Blountville yesterday, where Governor Buchanan was speaking in behalf of the People's party. Several roughs were among his hearers, and, not liking what he said, they suddenly threw a lot of rotten eggs, tomatoes, etc., at the Governor. The meeting broke up in disgust. The roughs would have assaulted the Governor had it not been for the interference of officers.

Four Good Speeches. KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 4.—This was Republican day at the Kansas City Inter-urban. Four speeches were made, and intended to campaign addresses from the Republican standpoint by Senator Dawes, of Massachusetts; Senator Cullom, of Illinois; Hon. J. M. Thurston, of Nebraska; and Hon. William Warner, Republican candidate for Governor of Missouri. The speeches were enthusiastically received.

New York Apportionment Cases. ALBANY, Oct. 4.—The three apportionment cases came up in the Court of Appeals this morning. Mr. Sutherland, of Rochester, made the main argument for the Republicans, and Attorney-general Roseblade made the principal argument for the Democrats. Mr. Sutherland opened his arguments covering the three cases. Mr. Roseblade responded, and the court took the papers.

Mr. Reed Won't Run for Congress. DENVER, Col., Oct. 4.—The Rev. Myron Reed, who some weeks ago was nominated for Congress by the Populists and was endorsed by one faction of the Colorado Democracy, to-day sent a letter to the State central committee of the People's party declining the nomination.

THIS SEEMS TO SETTLE IT. Judge Allen Again Says Gresham Told Him He Would Vote Against Harrison. United Press Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 4.—Efforts have been made in certain directions to discredit the report sent out from this city last week to the effect that Judge Gresham had declared to Judge Allen that it was his purpose to vote for Cleveland and Stevenson. For the purpose of settling the matter, a correspondent questioned Judge Allen on the subject, and, in reply to a question bearing on it, the Judge replied in substance:

"I don't want to be interviewed on this question, but Judge Gresham told me in private that he expected to vote for Cleveland."

"Is there any pique in this action on the part of Judge Gresham, on account of the fact that he has been so often asked to vote for Cleveland?" asked the reporter. Judge Allen responded: "None whatever. If the Judge has any animosity to me, it is not mine, and I don't say that he has. It is not that account he will vote against him. It is the attitude of the present administration on the tariff question that causes Judge Gresham to take this step. He has, in the privacy of his own home, told me many things which I cannot repeat to you. Perhaps, it is enough to say that the Judge will vote with the Democrats this fall."

Will Judge Gresham vote the whole Democratic ticket, or will he simply vote against Harrison?" "Well," said Judge Allen, "I would not like to say as regards that. I am not an authority on the subject of now is that Harrison will not get his vote. Judge Gresham remains a Republican. That principle he will not give up. But this year he will vote for the head of the national Republican ticket."

CANNOT BE TRUSTED IN POWER. [Concluded from First Page.]

most careful attention by the fine quality of his wit and the accuracy of his humor. He demanded to know what Christopher Columbus thought of the Democratic party. He said if the Democratic party had been allowed to follow its way there would not be a man, woman or child who would not be ashamed that Columbus had ever discovered America. Mr. Bonville then reviewed the record of the Democratic party and declared that the Republican party was still trying to shake the unenvied fangs of the Democratic party from the prosperity of the country.

SICKLES WILL NOT TAKE THE STUMP. Four Years Ago He Worked for Cleveland, but This Year He Will Vote Against Him.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—A morning paper says that Gen. Daniel E. Sickles will not take the stump for Harrison. He is alleged to have made that declaration last night. It has been reported that the Republicans had printed and circulated a campaign document the speech made by the General at Washington. "There was nothing of a political character in that speech," said the General last night. "My only reference to the Democratic party was to show the record of the Republican party, but as a soldier, a comrade, and as President of the United States, party issues were not mentioned, and political significance is given to the speech only by its adaptation to them. There was no short-hand report of my speech taken, and the only one I have seen is a rather incomplete and somewhat inaccurate type-written report sent me by President Richardson, of the Third Army Corps Association. It was sent me for a soldier. The address attacked Governor Northen and denounces Grover Cleveland as an insane follower of Wall Street. It concludes: 'This is a poor man's fight. Money has been tried to keep the poor man down, and now is the time to redeem the land from a shotgun Democracy. Come, trust in God and your own righteous cause to hurl from power those men, who, with rotten eggs, have forever stained the honor and chivalry of their native State.'"

Farwell May Preside. CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—There is great interest among Republicans in the big meeting to be held in the Auditorium, Oct. 24. It is said that Charles B. Farwell is to be invited to preside. This is regarded as an important factor for the success of the campaign.

THE CAMPAIGN IN INDIANA

Republicans Wide Awake, as Shown by Well-Attended Meetings Everywhere.

Enthusiastic Crowds Listen to Speeches on the Tariff, the Gerrymander, the Obnoxious Tax Law and Other Issues.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

ANDERSON, Ind., Oct. 4.—Hons. Aaron Jones and Thad. Rollins spoke yesterday evening in the court-house at this place to a large and enthusiastic crowd. Both gentlemen made some very telling hits in their addresses. Mr. Jones confined himself especially to State issues, the obnoxious tax law, and showed how the farmers were oppressed beyond all others. His remarks were peculiarly appropriate and were well received. Mr. Rollins confined himself to a discussion of the tariff issues. Judge Chinaman was announced to speak at Summitville and had a good-sized and good-humored audience. Mr. Byrum was announced to speak there at the same time, but failed to appear, and the Democrats got mad and some three hundred of them went over and attended a bipharmic meeting. The Judge's address evidently made a good impression on them.

To all appearances Mr. Henry has got Byrum on the run, and as a result that gentleman has been called back into his district past tense.

Mr. Henry's Aggressive Campaign. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

PENDLETON, Ind., Oct. 4.—Hon. Charles L. Henry, candidate for Congress in this district, spoke here last night, and made a speech that will have a wide influence. It was the intention to have an out-door meeting, but on account of rain the speaking was held in the Universalist Church. Every seat was taken, chairs and benches carried in, all the standing room occupied, the windows were full of eager listeners, and the hall was packed. Mr. Henry spoke for an hour and a half, and as an evidence of the interest with which he filled his hearers, only one man was seen to get up and leave the room during that time. Mr. Henry has started out to make an aggressive campaign, and is keeping the voters of his district awake and posted on the issues of the campaign. He made the tariff question so plain the smallest boy could understand it, and the people here are now all for Henry. He made a statement he followed with the proof plain, and convincing.

Shockey at His Old Home. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

WINFALL, Ind., Oct. 4.—Hon. Theodore Shockey, candidate for Lieutenant-governor, addressed a good-sized audience in the grove to-day on the political issues, devoting most of his time to State affairs. This is his old home, he having been a poor orphan boy twenty-seven years ago. It was thirty years ago to-day since his mother was buried here. He spoke of this incident in affecting words. His old neighbors, of all parties, gave him a hearty welcome and a good hearing. Mr. Shockey deserves the name of "the boy of the grove," as he was born of poor parents, and when he left here, a mere boy, a collection was taken up to defray his expenses to friends in Randolph county. Judge Vaughn made a short speech at the close.

Waking Up St. Joseph County. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 4.—Within the past few evenings some remarkable meetings have been held here. On Saturday night Hon. Byron M. Cutcheon, of Michigan, addressed a very large audience at Mishawaka. Last night Gen. Thomas H. Nelson, of Terre Haute, spoke here, and made an interesting address. Capt. James S. Lodge, Republican candidate for Congress from this district, also held a large meeting in the country, and at Walkerton. Hon. Richard Guenther, of Wisconsin, made a fine speech. Captain Dodge held a good meeting this evening at Crumstown. He is doing fine work all over the district, and if he is not the next Congressman from the thirteenth it will not be his fault.

Three Thousand People Greet Chase. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

SHELBYVILLE, Ind., Oct. 4.—The Republicans of this city are doing honor to Gov. Chase to-night. He arrived on the noon train, and spent the afternoon calling on business men, greeting old soldiers and cheering up Republicans to active work the closing month of the campaign. To-night three thousand people assembled on the public square to hear the governor and to witness the address of the national and State issues. The tariff question was clearly and forcibly presented, and the people here are now all for Chase. The governor is very popular in Shelby county, and will receive quite a number of Democratic votes. This meeting will do great good to the party.

Hurley at Seymour. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

SEYMOUR, Ind., Oct. 4.—A large and enthusiastic Republican meeting was held here to-night, which was addressed by Hon. M. M. Hurley, of New Albany. Mr. Hurley delivered a very able address upon the deplorable financial condition of the State, brought about by Democratic mismanagement. He reviewed the Democratic party history for the past three years, and showed how the party had been misled by the "big four" and the "big five." The speech was the first delivered in this city this year, and was listened to by a large and enthusiastic audience. The party which has existed among Republicans this campaign has been cleared away, and they will now get down to active work.

Rushville Is Wide Awake. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

RUSHVILLE, Ind., Oct. 4.—Judge A. W. Tenney, of New York, was advertised for a speech in this city to-night, but failed to make his appearance, owing to the fact that the party had been allowed to follow its way there would not be a man, woman or child who would not be ashamed that Columbus had ever discovered America. Mr. Bonville then reviewed the record of the Democratic party and declared that the Republican party was still trying to shake the unenvied fangs of the Democratic party from the prosperity of the country.

Elkhart Republicans Are All Right. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

ELKHART, Ind., Oct. 4.—Hon. Thomas Nelson addressed a rousing gathering of Republicans at Republican headquarters here this evening and made a telling impression on the minds of the audience. He showed up the record of the Democratic party in a way that made the Democrats present wish they were somewhere else, and closed with a masterful eulogy of the present administration. The Republicans of this section are not making a great deal of noise, but never were they more determined.

Fairbanks at Covington. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

COVINGTON, Ind., Oct. 4.—Hon. Charles W. Fairbanks addressed a large meeting at the court-house in this city last evening. He spoke principally upon State issues, showing up the obnoxious tax law, Democratic financial methods, the outrageous gerrymander, by reason of which the people of the State are almost powerless to elect a Republican to Congress, and closed with a Democratic manifesto. The address was replete with facts from beginning to end, and was listened to attentively by all present.

The Elitquent O'Donnell. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

COLUMBIA CITY, Ind., Oct. 4.—Hon. Patrick O'Donnell spoke in Linnville Opera-house to-night, to the largest audience that has assembled this campaign. He was met at the depot by a torchlight procession, and escorted to the hall, where he delivered one of the best political speeches ever heard in this city. Many Democrats were present, and were captured by his eloquence. O'Donnell's speech has caused an awakening among the Republicans here.

Good Meeting at Warren. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

WARREN, Ind., Oct. 4.—The campaign was opened at Warren last night by a speech from ex-Senator Yancy. Paine's Opera-house was filled to overflowing with a large and enthusiastic audience. Short speeches were also made by Dr. C. L. Good and A. J. Foust. The meeting was a stunner to Democracy, and shows that the Republicans are in good fighting trim for the battle on Nov. 8.

Barbecue at Valparaiso. VALPARAISO, Ind., Oct. 4.—The annual Democratic barbecue, held here to-day, was a highly successful affair. The town was thronged with people, who came in from the surrounding country to attend the festivities. Speeches were made by several local orators, and a general good time was enjoyed by those present.

Haywood at Martinsville. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

MARTINSVILLE, Ind., Oct. 4.—George P. Haywood, candidate for Reporter of the Supreme Court, addressed a large assembly of Republicans at the court-house here to-night, and concluded that it would be a campaign in a clear and concise manner.

THE ENGLISH BARD DYING

Lord Tennyson's Condition Suddenly Assumes a Very Critical Phase.

His Attack of Influenza Takes a Serious Turn—Scenes at Haslemere, the Aged Poet's Home—Victory for Austrian Riders.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—Lord Tennyson is dying. Dr. Dabbs, who is in constant attendance on the aged poet at Aldworth, near Haslemere, told your correspondent at 11:30 o'clock to-night, that his patient's condition was very grave. The 9 o'clock bulletin said: "Lord Tennyson's condition is still critical. He takes food readily, and is not perceptibly weaker." The bulletin issued shortly before midnight said: "Lord Tennyson's condition is extremely critical. He is weaker, and takes nourishment with difficulty."

Lord Tennyson's illness began on Friday. He suffered first from severe cold, but the disease has not become acute until recently. The rapid development of influenza early in the week brought him to his bed on Friday morning. He was strongly opposed to yielding to the malady, as the which, for years, has conveyed him from Haslemere to the shore opposite his winter home on the Isle of Wight, and already been ordered. He begged hard to be allowed to go, but Sir Andrew Clarke and Dr. Dabbs told him that the journey could be made only at the peril of his life. In the midst of this warning, as well as the wishes of his invalid wife, Tennyson reluctantly consented to remain at Haslemere.

Visitors go constantly throughout the day to Haslemere to read the bulletins as to Tennyson's condition. These bulletins are, however, giving to Tennyson's request on Saturday when inquiries began to multiply, that as little publicity as possible be given to the progress of the disease. Many Tennyson devotees have been told to the reporters, but refuse to add to the scant information which they contain. The people of Aldworth, however, are not so reticent. Tennyson's condition, or, in fact, about the Tennysons in any way. Aldworth is three miles from the village and one mile from the nearest house. Not only the poet, but also his wife and son are complete strangers to the people thereabout. The solitude of the place, however, has been banished since yesterday noon. Hundreds of telegrams of inquiry and sympathy are being received at Haslemere. The Earl of Rosebery, Emperor William and hosts of other persons of world-wide fame are sending messages and receiving news of his condition. The Queen receives reports three times daily. The messages are so numerous, however, that most of the answers are given only through the newspapers, as there is nobody at Aldworth to return individual replies. The only persons at the bedside are the patients' relatives, who use practically the whole day and night in the house, Lady Tennyson, who is a chronic invalid, Italian Tennyson and his family.

Austrian Riders Beat the Germans. BERLIN, Oct. 4.—Lieutenant Miklos of the Austrian army, one of the competitors in the long-distance military race, which began last Saturday, arrived at the goal in the Templehof field at 9 o'clock this morning. He left Vienna at 7:50 Saturday morning, and was, therefore, three days, one hour and forty-five minutes in traversing the distance. He was the first of the riders, either German or Austrian, to finish. His ride had evidently been fast and furious, and the animal and rider were completely worn out. The Lieutenant was lifted from his horse and conducted to the custom house, and then to the hospital, where he was placed in a bed. The second Austrian rider, Lieutenant Miklos, started from the Austrian starting point to-day, and was in the saddle at 11:10 a. m. Lieutenant Cavosky and Lieutenant Miklos started from the Austrian starting point to-day, and were in the saddle at 11:10 a. m.

Big Crowd at Lexington. Every noted driver and horse of the country is now in Lexington, with the exception of Marvin, Melberry and Doug Thomas, all of whom will arrive on Friday.

Good weather the track will be better and faster than it ever was. The number of horses coming in is so great that local horsemen are forced to surrender stables to strangers, while private citizens are aiding hotels in accommodating visiting horsemen. Everything—weather, track, horses, and drivers—indicates that Kentucky will to-morrow hold the greatest trotting meeting ever held within her borders.
